

peace education

How to become a Part of GPENreformation?

Visit our website www.gpenreformation.net and sign up your school, teacher training college or university to the network as basic member. You will then become visible as a part of the Protestant Education community on our world map. Make contact with Ambassadors responsible for your region and start getting involved locally.

Stay current with the newsletter about projects on global and local level, get in contact with Protestant education institutions worldwide via the network's website and make global learning and international encounters part of your culture!

If you would like to sponsor good Protestant educational work worldwide, please donate to:

IBAN: DE05 5206 0410 0000 6600 00

BIC / SWIFT: GENODEF1EK1

Purpose: GPENreformation Donation

Global Pedagogical Network - Joining in Reformation Secretary GPENreformation

Evangelical Church in Germany
Herrenhäuser Str. 12 | 30419 Hannover |
Germany
www.ekd.de

+49 (0) 511 27 96 79 97
team@gpenreformation.net
www.gpenreformation.net

Become Part of the Global Network! Schools and Universities promoted by:

Hello!

About us

The Global Pedagogical Network – Joining in Reformation, short GPENreformation, is an international network of Protestant schools, teacher training colleges and universities as well as Protestant associations and organizations supporting them.

Members belonging to various Protestant denominations worldwide explore their common roots in the Reformation. They learn from and with each other on a global level, schools and universities can develop their own profile thanks to new perspectives and thus contribute to ensure a high quality Christian education worldwide.

GPENreformation is convinced that international encounters enrich professionally as well as personally. It wants to create those opportunities for teaching or administrative staff and for students in equal measure. By means of God's kindness and joy in global diversity, fears of the unknown shall be overcome. Thus, students have the possibility to work together with other young people from different countries on specific topics with global relevance (peace, interreligious dialogue, integrity of creation). Short-term global learning projects are supported by the network as well as long-term partnerships. In dialogue with the scientific community, GPENreformation gives inspiration for innovative learning and teaching methods.

A jointly developed position paper shows what connects Protestant schools and universities worldwide and what they are committed to. Guided by this vision GPENreformation aims to forward global learning demonstrating that everyone can make a difference – locally and globally.

Become a part of this unique global community in the spirit of Jesus Christ! Give new drive to the educational movement Reformation and get enriched by the diversity of Protestant educational work!

Study together globally

GPENreformation connects students from different countries around the world. They can meet personally at summer camps or virtually via web-based learning projects. Exchange ideas about topics that affect everyone around the globe as Peace, Sustainability and Human Rights!

International Schools Camp with 120 participants from 7 countries and 4 continents

Learn about innovative Teaching Concepts from abroad

Educational quality is one major issue for GPENreformation. Teaching as well as administrative staff can participate in GPENreformation Academies. Find new inspiration thanks to best practice examples from around the globe. Get enriched by scientific exchange at international conferences!

Conferences in Germany (2015), the Netherlands (2016) and Rwanda (2017)

Connect to Others around the Globe

Every network member figures on the world map of GPENreformation. Here, you can find partners for student or teacher exchanges or temporary student group projects. Discover where Protestant institutions can be found around the world and contact them directly!

More than 700 members to exchange with

Strengthen your Protestant Profile

In a globalized world characterized by both a movement of secularism and religious radicalism it is sometimes hard to take a stand with one's own Protestant identity. Within GPENreformation Protestant education institutions can exchange about their Christian Ethos with counterparts from around world. Learn and find new answers to the challenges you are facing!

Position paper "Establishing common ground for Protestant schools"

Benefit from organizational Support

GPENreformation is led by the Council consisting of a multi-national and multi-denominational team. The Secretary coordinates the activities globally and functions as service point for members or interested parties. Also get support from Ambassadors serving as on-site contact persons building bridges between the local and the international level!

Ambassadors in Zambia, Argentina, Poland, Hong Kong & more

